

SOUTHBURY MAKERS SPOTLIGHT

Krista and Scott Priore, Little Bee of Connecticut

Little Bee of Connecticut was established in 2014 when Scott and Krista Priore, along with their young daughter, took up beekeeping as a hobby.

"Our hobby quickly turned to a passion as we learned about the amazing honeybees, what is happening on a global scale with their survival, and about the positive attributes of beeswax and honey which are beneficial to humans," said Krista Priore. They then embarked on their R+D journey to develop products not commonly found - "distinctive products from the hive" - for the home and body.

Their business focuses on:

- Providing clean label products using only simple, minimal ingredients
- Being good stewards of the environment and educating our customers on what we can all do to help support pollinator survival
- The importance of family and community

Little Bee of CT offers a wide range of handmade goods which are available online and at several local and regional businesses.

For more information about this month's maker, or if you are interested in being featured in an upcoming issue of the Southbury Makers Spotlight, please contact us at edcsouthburymakers@gmail.com.

WHERE TO FIND THEM

Website: littlebeeofct.com

In Store (Southbury):

Email: info@littlebeeofct.com

Piper & Dune

Instagram and Facebook:
@littlebeeofct

Chatfield's True Value